

CALLED TO TEXAS

LOCAL BOARD SENDS LIMITED SERVICE MEN TO CAMP BOWIE

The latest call which the local Exemption Board has received is for limited service men to be entrained today, September 3d, for Camp Bowie, Fort Worth, Texas. The call instructs the Board to pass over all registrants who could qualify as stenographers or who have had legal training, or registrants who would make good clerks for state headquarters, or for local, district and medical advisory boards. The character of the work expected of these four men is not stated. The men called by the Board are:

Willard W. Stark, Magnolia road, Burbank, a student and farmer, son of William H. Stark.

Charles R. Fish, 420 East Acacia avenue, Glendale, a delivery clerk and son of Charles H. Fish.

Ernest Alvin Brown, Burbank, Cal., a student and farmer, son of Colby Brown.

Lynn Holbrook Kelsey, formerly of Eagle Rock, now R. F. D. 1, Los Angeles, an electric meter reader and student, son of Katherine H. Kelsey.

Alternates

Arthur Barrie Watt, San Fernando, Cal.

Junius C. Myers, Lang, Cal.

The four first-named were entrained today and the alternates will be subject to another call.

Frank Reyes of Calabasas accepted the opportunity to go to Tucson, Ariz., for mechanical training, and was entrained for that point September 1st.

RESERVOIR BREAKS OUT

The lower reservoir on Glendale avenue sprung a leak through the south wall of that large receptacle Tuesday forenoon and allowed about 70,000 cubic feet of municipal water to find its way across the adjacent lots without meter measure. No damage worth mentioning has been done. Men are at work making needed repairs on the break in the wall.

HARVEST FESTIVAL

Plans for the big Harvest Festival to be given September 20th and 21st by the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon Club for the benefit of the Red Cross, are being speedily perfected and rehearsals are to be given at once. This festival is to be given on the High School athletic grounds, where a large stage and various booths are to be erected. If you are not a member, this will not bar you from giving help in work or wares, as it is all for the great cause of humanity.

WAYNE SMITH IN NAVY

Wayne Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Smith of 146 South Maryland, who enlisted some time ago in the naval reserve, was called for service last week and is stationed at San Pedro. Wayne would have been a senior at the University of California this fall but could not be satisfied to finish his college course when his country was calling. For the past three summers he has been employed in the Security National Bank of Los Angeles.

REV. PAGE HERE

VISITS BROTHER ON HIS WAY TO DO Y. M. C. A. WORK IN MESOPOTAMIA

H. A. Page, Jr., and family, of 432 West Broadway, have had a brief but very great pleasure in the visit for a day or two of Mr. Page's youngest brother, Rev. Edward H. Page, whom he had not seen for eleven years, or since he was a little boy. In that time he has developed into a man of whom his relatives feel very proud, and he is now employed in Y. M. C. A. war work. He has been at Glasgow, Montana, and was recently married to a young woman as patriotic as himself who is engaged in war work for the government at Berkeley. He arrived Friday morning and left here Saturday evening. Besides catching up on all arrears of family visiting, his brother was able to show him something of Los Angeles, the beaches and foothill towns. He was delighted with it all and especially interested because he is to be placed in charge of a Y. M. C. A. branch here when he returns from the field to which he is going. He left here for Berkeley and from there will go to Rhode Island and then to New York, from which port he is to sail for Mesopotamia for work in the territory recently wrested from the Turks by the British. His stay there will be governed by circumstances. It may be two years or it may be five. Meanwhile his bride will remain here in the service of the Government.

GOLDEN WEDDING

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE CORNWELL CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY WITH FAMILY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. George Cornwell, who are genuine "old settlers," having lived in Glendale for 26 years, had the pleasure Sunday of gathering their children around them and celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary with a family dinner which was served at six o'clock at 311 South Kenwood street, covers being laid for twenty. The guest list included children, grandchildren and great grandchildren, and it was a very pretty affair. Golden glow was appropriately used in the decoration of the table and parlors and golden were the letters "50" studded with white rosebuds which embellished the handsome bridal cake made especially for the occasion by Mrs. Harry Stevenson. Friends came and went informally during the day to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Cornwell, and they also received many messages by telephone and letter. There were substantial remembrances, too, more than $100 in gold coins, and in all respects it was a happy day and quite wonderful as a family celebration, for their eight children are all alive, they have fourteen grandchildren and four great grandchildren. Except for the death of one grandchild, their family circle is unbroken.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornwell are both natives of Tennessee, but in childhood they moved with their parents to Arkansas and it was in that state, at Fayetteville, they were wedded September 1st, 1868. There they spent twenty-two years of their fifty years of happy married life. Missouri knew them for two years and the balance has been spent here where they have many friends who will share their pleasure in this anniversary. Mr. Cornwell fought for three years in the Civil War and is a member of the N. P. Banks Post, G. A. R. Their two sons, Messrs. H. E. and W. C. Cornwell of Modesto, were unable to be present, but the rest of their children were with them, the guest list including Mrs. A. P. Stone (a daughter), of Denair, Cal., Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cornwell, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cornwell, Misses Jennie, Carrie and May Cornwell, all of this city. In the list of grandchildren were Dr. Fay G. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kelly and Elizabeth Cornwell. Two great grandchildren were there, viz., Edith and Junior Kelly. Besides the members of the family, covers were laid for Mrs. Harriet Dow, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stevenson and daughter Eula, also of Glendale.

The many friends of Mrs. Stone, who formerly resided here, will be glad to know that she will remain to visit with her family and friends for ten days or two weeks.

RED CROSS NOTES

Today, ladies from the Glendale Baptist Church Society are at work on bed socks and flannellette petticoats for French refugees, at Red Cross headquarters. Mrs. Halstead is in charge of the needlework and will be hostess at the four o'clock tea. Mrs. Stephen Packer is the instructor today in the work on surgical dressings, which has been resumed and in which help is needed.

AN IOWA REUNION

Mrs. Suel J. Spaulding of 121 West Park avenue entertained with a musicale Monday evening in honor of her sister, Mrs. Burberry of Iowa, and her niece, Miss Wilma Dashiell of San Francisco, who are her house guests. It was practically a reunion of old friends and former residents of Iowa, the guests entertained including Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terry, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Tallyerday and daughter Virginia of South Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Constant of Buel, Montana, who are now located in Pasadena to be near their son Shelby, also a guest, who is in service at the balloon school at Arcadia, and Mrs. C. E. Harlan of this city. Miss Tallyerday contributed delightful piano numbers, and Miss Louisiana Spaulding, daughter of the hostess, entertained with pianologues and vocal numbers. Light refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

WHAT FOLLOWS HOLIDAYS

Holidays may be restful to the average man and woman, but the day that follows is a hard one on the copy fellow in the country publishing house. The day after the holiday, whether it be the day following Sunday, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Labor Day, or any other National holiday, is a hard one to get the attention of people on any subject.

TAKE QUEANT-DROCOURT SWITCHLINE

NOW HOLD WHAT IS BELIEVED THE BULWARK OF HINDENBURG'S DEFENSE ON WEST FRONT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, September 3.—It was officially announced today that the British have captured Queant and Lens and this morning are in undisturbed possession of the entire Queant-Drocourt "switchline."

The Germans are hurriedly retreating southward in an attempt to get behind what is left of the old Wotan line.

The Queant-Drocourt "switchline" is one of Hindenburg's greatest fortifications and many believe the bulwark of his entire defense on the west front. It is generally believed that its capture will force the Germans to readjust their entire west front line.

The British are now advancing southeast of Cantigny court astride the railway between Queant and Reincourt.

In yesterday's operations in that region the British took 10,000 prisoners. Cambrai is now only ten miles away and the British are fighting over much country they have not held since the war started.

On other sections of the front the allies are gaining heavily. The Franco-Americans having outflanked Coucy-le-Chateau, have advanced a mile and a quarter beyond the canal du Nord. Toward Guiscard the French have made further gains.

Prisoners taken there state that the retirement toward St. Quentin has been organized and the congestion behind the German lines today and the numerous fires noted indicate that the retreat has begun.

In Flanders the Anglo-Americans have taken Wulverghem. Further south Tromville has fallen.

Near the Arras-Cambrai road the British attacked this morning over a 20-mile front, advancing four miles and taking Doignes and several other villages in that region.

In the operations in this region Sunday 572 prisoners, 2 heavy guns and 78 machine guns were captured.

PROMINENT ADVENTIST MEDICAL MISSIONARY VISITING IN GLENDAL

Dr. A. C. Selmon, who has labored for more than 15 years as a medical missionary in China under the direction of the Seventh-day Adventist Foreign Mission Board, took part in the services at the Glendale Seventh-day Adventist church, Third and Isabel streets, last Saturday morning.

Dr. Selmon has been often in peril of his life as he has gone on itinerating trips among the many villages of interior China. On one of these journeys he and his party were attacked by robbers. Dr. Selmon usually takes his medicine chest and surgical instruments with him when traveling among the native towns, and endeavors as far as lies in his power to alleviate physical suffering. He is thoroughly conversant with the Chinese language and the customs of the people, and whenever he makes a return visit is always welcomed.

He is spending a few days at the White Memorial Hospital, in Los Angeles, which is a branch of Loma Linda College of Medical Evangelists. Dr. Selmon plans to leave for New York in a short time, to take postgraduate medical work.

AUTOLESS SUNDAY NEW ORDER

The fuel administration has appealed to all patriotic owners of automobiles, motorboats and motorcycles to help fill the war demands for gasoline, and in order to do this residents of the United States east of the Mississippi river are requested not to use such vehicles on Sunday until further notice.

Vehicles of physicians used in the performance of professional duties, undertakers' wagons and conveyances used for funerals, and motor vehicles on errands of necessity in rural communities where transportation by steam or electricity is not available, are excepted from the government ruling.

While this regulation will be obeyed cheerfully by all citizens, it would have seemed proper to include the whole of the United States, instead of only that portion lying east of the Mississippi river.—Whiteside County, Ill., Sentinel, Aug. 28, 1918.

Y. M. C. A. EXPERIENCE

Working in gas masks because the Germans threw mustard gas shells into the village where they were working as Y. M. C. A. war work secretaries on the western front, Ward N. Black of Palestine, Ill., and A. W. Peel of Fitchburg, Mass., were compelled to run their canteen at night as the soldiers were not allowed to collect about the dugout in daytime.

During the daylight hours they packed chocolate and cigarettes on their backs to the front-line trenches. They were constantly under snipers' fire and shells burst all about them. The hut in which these men worked offered no protection from shell fire and the nearest dugout was 100 yards away. It was so close that it was within range of the German guns of small calibre. They were two of a party of fifty Y. M. C. A. men who worked constantly under shell fire with the American soldiers, carrying to them small comforts and a knowledge that in spite of all the death and destruction some one took a personal interest in them.

Statements are being mailed to subscribers of the Evening News covering a date considerably in advance of October 1, 1918. Persons who wish to remit a full year's subscription will save themselves and us postage and stationery material.

The National War Council of Defense has ruled that beginning October 1, 1918, all subscriptions for newspapers must be paid in advance. The law as laid down is clear, and publishers must abide by it or suffer the consequences.

FOR PAUL RIDER

There was an unusually large attendance at the meeting of the Christian Endeavor of the Tropico Presbyterian Church Sunday evening. Paul Rider, son of the pastor, was the leader. He leaves Thursday for Camp Kearny, and his friends realize that they can not expect him to be with them many more times. This evening he will be guest of honor at the regular monthly dinner given by teachers and officers of the Sunday School, which will be followed by a reception to give his friends an opportunity to extend their good wishes.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Wednesday, except cloudy or foggy tonight and early tomorrow morning. Westerly winds.

HOME FROM NORTH

COMRADE T. M. BARRETT HAS RETURNED FROM NATIONAL G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

Comrade T. M. Barrett, of 1464 West Third street, recently elected commander of the Southern California Veterans' association, attended the National G. A. R. encampment at Portland, Oregon, returning Sunday. Miss Barrett, who accompanied her father north, will remain a week longer with relatives in Portland.

Mr. Barrett reports a most delightful time and a splendid meeting. The attendance of veterans was very large, 6000 on parade and 600 accredited delegates in closed convention. Representatives of auxiliaries and visitors probably swelled the number to 20,000. The people of Portland vied with each other to royally entertain the veterans, and everyone was happy. Mr. Barrett met a comrade who was a member of his company during the war and whom he had not seen for 54 years. Needless to say, the meeting was a happy one.

RETURN FROM CAMP

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McRae and family, of 1535 Myrtle street, got back Thursday from a month's stay at Holloway's Camp, Big Bear Lake, San Bernardino Mountains. All were delighted with their outing and all much benefited, especially Mrs. McRae. They went by the Crest Route and returned by the Mill Creek road and the scenery, Mrs. McRae declares, surpasses anything she had previously seen in California. Their days were uneventful except for thunderstorms which they say are awe-inspiring in the mountains. After they left, Pine Knot Lodge was struck in such a storm and somewhat damaged. They became quite expert fishermen and caught one lake trout which weighed three pounds. They also visited Bear Creek and secured some fine brook trout.

HOME ON FURLOUGH

Howard M. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Anderson of 407 South Isabel street, who has spent the past three months at the Enlisted Specialists Preparatory school at Fort Scott, where he has been taking the Sergeant-Electricians course, was one of the number to make the required grade and arrived home Sunday morning to spend a five-day furlough before going on to Fortress Monroe, where he will finish the course. Howard was a member of the champion drill team of the Pacific coast artillery and has made splendid grades in his class work.

ENTERTAINS FOR SOLDIER BOY

Last Friday evening Dr. A. M. Duncan was host at a family dinner party given at his pretty home on San Fernando boulevard in honor of his nephew and namesake, Arthur G. Duncan of Los Angeles, a 1918 registrant who expects to go to camp this week. He is an Occidental graduate and equipped to give Uncle Sam good service. The table was spread out of doors under the trees for greater festivity and all went well until a little shower fell coincident with the serving of the dessert, which sent guests scurrying to the house for a few minutes but which failed to spoil the success or enjoyment of the affair. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Duncan of Los Angeles, Arthur G. Duncan, the guest of honor, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Myers, their daughters, Misses Ida and Harriet Myers, Misses Carol and Lois Duncan and Masters Eugene and Richard Hillman.

WAR SAVINGS RALLY

SLOAN PITZER SPOKE TO PATRIOTIC GLENDAL AUDIENCE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The High School auditorium was well filled for the War Savings Rally Sunday afternoon and the meeting was highly satisfactory. City Manager T. W. Watson made an excellent presiding officer and a very enjoyable and profitable program was given. The speaker of the afternoon, Sloan Pitzer, made no attempt at sensational oratory, but spoke simply, convincingly and to the point about the obligation of every individual to stand back of the government, that it is a proposition no one can shirk and we must refrain from unnecessary purchasing in order to conserve for the government. Solos and duets contributed by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hassler of Pasadena, who had charge of the musical program, were much enjoyed, and under Mr. Hassler's leadership the audience united in singing "America" and "The Star-Spangled Banner."

PAPER HOUSES MAKING MONEY

A man does not need to be highly educated in the science of money making to be able to understand that the jobbing paper houses in the United States have succeeded in making large profits the past two years.

These gentlemen have been buying and selling paper stock on a rising market. These concerns are so well organized that immediately upon receiving advice from the mills that the price of paper has advanced the price is advanced in the jobbing house. These advances have been so marked and have occurred so often that the jobbers have little more to do than count their high per cent of profit on sales.

Never has there been a time that jobbing paper houses have had an opportunity to make so much easy money. Of course they are not boasting of the profits they are making. It is to their interest to keep the public blind to this part of the game.

Printers might be in a similar position if they were organized, but as it is they cut prices right and left and in many instances are doing work just as cheap as they did when paper stock cost one half the price it does now. The result is scores of printers are going out of business on account of being unable to pay rent, help and paper stock bills.

WOMEN MOTOR DRIVERS

The Red Cross has received orders from Paris Headquarters to enroll 300 women motor drivers for overseas service. The Pacific Division is asked to furnish a quota of 25 of this number and applications are being received at the Bureau of Personnel in Division Headquarters, Flood Building, San Francisco. The mere knowledge of driving does not qualify applicants for this service. Mechanical knowledge, driving tests, physical examinations, general type and adaptability to military routine are carefully considered, together with licenses. In addition to this, training in first aid is necessary. Various Chapters throughout the Pacific Division are organizing motor corps as an adjunct to their local service.

DOUBLE THE AMOUNT

The element of surprise has come to play such an important part in the fighting on the western front that the German press explained the backing up of the late lamented trip toward Paris by charging that "Deserters from our army gave the enemy the time and place of the attack."

One gigantic offensive may be seen in the offing which is violating the accepted rules of the game of war by giving the Huns full information. It is an American drive and there appears no desire to hide the date, the points of attack and the objectives. It is generally agreed that the operation will be successful although victory must come with the hardest kind of effort.

The campaign will begin at noon September 28; the front on which the attack is to be made is from the Pacific to the Atlantic, Mexico to Canada; the objectives are six or eight billion dollars and the time allowed is three weeks. The divisions to be engaged include every red blooded American.

Our part begins now. Plan at least to double the investment you made in the last Liberty Loan because the Fourth will be at least double the size of the last one. Our boys never lag in the attack. They meet the Boche and his bullets more than half way. Let's back them up with our paltry dollars. Let's give them a square deal. Let's lend as they fight and that means crowd the banks the very first hour of the Fourth Liberty Loan offensive.

THE DEMOCRATIC PROGRAM

Republican leaders are examining a remarkable statement just issued by Senator Lewis, Democrat, of Illinois, from Paris, where he is on a government mission. Some people used to take Senator Lewis lightly, falsely concluding that his pink whiskers were the color of the man. However, as the Democratic leader in the Senate, he has been steadily increasing his importance as a spokesman for the Democratic party, and on more than one occasion during the last congress he has appeared on the floor of the senate as the mouth-piece of the administration. The Republican leaders who know his adroitness, his persistence, and his very extraordinary ability to twist facts and arguments to suit his own ends, regard his words as forces which it is well to reckon.

Senator Lewis' predictions may be summarized as follows:

1. The tariff will disappear as a party issue.
2. The big issue of the next campaign will be the question of government ownership.
3. Another big issue between the Democrats and Republicans in the coming campaign will be over our foreign policy. Dilating on what he professes will be the Democratic attitude on foreign policy, he devotes considerable time to explaining the racial origins of Americans and to suggesting that our future policy will be dictated by these origins.

4. The farmers will be heard more than ever in the next campaign. They will tell us "that their profits have been limited and their business regulated during the war, while others have been getting rich without restraint because of the war."

5. And, lastly, he expects the war to be over before the next presidential contest, which he thinks will automatically eliminate the question of the third term.

Here is a fairly definite outline of the Democratic program for the immediate future. On two points Republican leaders will probably agree with Senator Lewis. One is that the war will be over before the next Presidential campaign, for to the "Win the War Now" policy, Republicans have dedicated themselves completely. The other is that the farmers will be heard from; they ought to be heard from, and the Republicans are already framing effective measures to relieve their present distress.—Monrovia News.

SMALL WONDER COL. DISQUE OBJECTS

Resolutions demanding the removal of Colonel Disque of the spruce division were adopted by the Metal Trades Council at Seattle.

The resolution declares the resentment of the council as to Colonel Disque's attitude, and pledges the loyal support of the council to timber workers in their effort to maintain the right to organize.

It is demanded that Colonel Disque be replaced by "a man who has human concept and who understands the meaning of democracy."

According to the officials of the timber workers, Colonel Disque is openly opposed to any efforts of the unionists to build up their organization and holds that union organization is wrong in war times.

The people will be with Colonel Disque, as loyalty to the Union comes ahead of loyalty to any labor union and the public hasn't forgotten the disgraceful spectacle of 3500 metal workers striking in the Oakland shipyards last July to air their petty grievances, thus delaying construction on 26 ships for three days. Not only did these men strike, but they struck in spite of their agreement not to strike, made with the government last February.

No wonder Colonel Disque thinks union organization is wrong in war times when its leaders commit such acts of direct aid and comfort to the enemy.

"Into the trenches," should be the rule in regard to any man or body of men who place the right to strike ahead of their duty to work 24 hours a day if necessary, to turn out supplies for our boys across the sea. Even this is poor service and return in comparison to that offered by the boys in the trenches. An industrial slacker is the lowest on the list.—The Manufacturer.

FRENCH REACH LAFFAUX

LATE REPORTS THIS AFTERNOON INDICATE FRENCH ARE ADVANCING IN CHEMIN DES DAMES REGION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, September 3.—At four o'clock this afternoon battle-front dispatches showed that the French were biting into the western edge of the Chemin des Dames.

They had reached Laffaux north of Soissons, despite energetic German resistance.

GENDER OF PIAVE WORRIES ITALY

By Henry Wood
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
ROME, Aug. 12. (By Mail).—Italy is very much interested in settling the question of whether the Piave river is masculine or feminine.

Names of rivers, like names of all things in Italian, have gender which is indicated usually by the last letter of the word and as a consequence of which all articles or adjectives modifying the word must be of the same gender. Unfortunately, the gender of the Piave has never yet been definitely established, and the question now being discussed is whether it is "La Piave" (femine) or "Il Piave" (masculine).

But for the fact that it was on the banks of the Piave that the Italians checked the great Austro-German drive of last fall, and the new Austrian offensive of this spring, it is doubtful if the question of the Piave's gender would ever have been discussed or settled. As it is, the question has become one of great importance and one that Italian writers are demanding to have permanently established.

Supporters of the two sides are citing all authorities possible to support their respective contentions.

Maria D'Angelo is for having the river masculine, and has in his support two of the greatest Italian writers, Cadrucci and d'Annunzio. D'Annunzio especially feels that the river should be masculine as a permanent tribute to the virility of the Italian army that was manifested there.

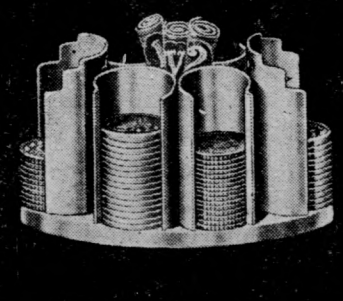

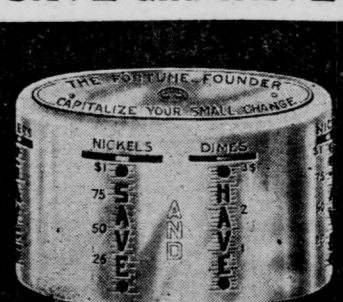

On the other hand nearly all of the most celebrated Venetian writers, such as Bembo, Goldoni, Sarpi and Gaspare Gozzie, used the Piave in their writings as feminine.

Meantime it develops that both the maps of the Italian Touring club and those of the Italian general staff have adopted the feminine form. The general staff especially is credited with having chosen the feminine for the Piave after careful study of historical documents and the common usage along the river.

The question, however, is still open.

A shipment of 800 cases of supplies made by the Red Cross Chapters in the Pacific Division were landed in Leghorn, Italy, March 1, at a time when sorely needed by that stricken people. This efficiency on the part of the Transportation Department has been highly commended.

FREE COLLEGE TRAINING

By order of the Secretary of War, Gen. Peyton C. March, Chief of Staff, has approved a plan for the organization of a student Army training corps in the educational institutions of the country to train men as officers and technical experts in the Army. The plan for the student Army training corps, as altered to conform to the plans of the War Department for lowering the draft age, will utilize the plant, equipment, and organization of the colleges to maintain a reservoir of officer material for training, from which it will be possible to meet the enlarged needs of the various branches of the service.

The length of time during which men will be trained in the colleges will depend upon the needs of the service. As fast as one group of trained men is drawn from the colleges into the service, their places will be taken by a new quota obtained by voluntary induction or through the draft. In this way the educational facilities of the country will be used to maintain a constant supply of men who are trained to meet the needs of the Army.

Under the regulations provided for the student Army training corps, selected young men who are physically fit for military service, who are 18 years of age or over, and who have had a grammar school education, may voluntarily be inducted into the Army and enter upon a course of special training. Those who have had a grammar school education, but no more, will ordinarily enter special training detachments to be trained along mechanical lines of military value. These detachments will become a part of the student Army training corps, and young men who prove in the course of their mechanical training that they are officer material may be transferred to a unit in one of the colleges to be prepared to enter a central officers' training camp.

Young men who have had at least a high school education will be allowed to enter the colleges for more advanced training as officers and as technical experts of various kinds, according to their experience and abilities. Those men who show promise under this training will be kept in college until qualified to enter central officers' training camps or to go directly into the service as technical experts. Those who do not will be sent either to noncommissioned officers' schools or to the nearest depot brigade, or in case they show special technical or mechanical ability, to the detachments where men are trained for such work.

Arrangements will be made for transferring from the depot brigades to units of the student Army training corps men whose ratings in the cantonments indicate them to be officer material, but not yet ready to enter central officers' training camps. Every effort will be made to give every young man who enters the service under this plan opportunity for the training best suited to his natural ability and preferences, in order to enable him to serve the country in the most efficient way.

NEW JERUSALEM IS TAKING SHAPE

By Henry Wood
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)
 ROME, Aug. 11. (By Mail.)— Military officials just returned from Jerusalem declare remarkable progress is being made by military authorities in installing law courts, governmental and municipal organizations, and even commercial and industrial bodies that will form the basis of the new national government that the allies have promised will be established in Palestine with Jerusalem, very likely, as the capital.

Steps now being taken are for the general purpose of replacing the military government with a civil one.
 A complete system of civil courts and tribunals has been established.
 There will be a court of appeal at Jerusalem and also a court of assizes for the entire district.

For the time being there will be only 2 courts of 1st instance, one at Jerusalem and one at Jaffa, while special tribunals will be temporarily installed in districts like that of Gaza where courts of 1st instance have not yet been established.

The personnel of the new civil administration probably will include a certain number of English officials who are acquainted with the Jewish and Arabic languages as well as with legal customs and traditions of both peoples. The personnel of the tribunals will be selected entirely from native populations.

Justice will be administered in all cases in conformity with local laws and customs, except in military crimes.

In addition to steps thus taken for instituting a civil legal administration, considerable progress has been made towards developing commercial and industrial resources of the future state of Palestine. Commercial information bureaus have been opened at Jerusalem and Jaffa, and arrangements are under way for giving trade exhibitions at which the products of the country, together with catalogues and transportation tariffs will be open to inspection of visitors.

CONSERVATION OF CREDIT

Not only should the goods and labor of the Nation be conserved for the prosecution of the war; the credit of the Nation must be conserved for the same purpose.

This is being impressed upon the banks and it should be impressed upon the people, too—the borrowers from the banks.

All of the banks of the country are being urged by the Federal Reserve Board to curtail their loans. They are urged to loan money only where the borrower is going to use it in some way that will aid in or contribute to winning the war.

This policy is not aimed at hampering legitimate business. It aims to help win the war, which is the best thing possible for business. It simply means that money wanted for non-essential purposes should be refused.
 The Government needs the money to carry on the war. The farmers, the men and the industries engaged in war work or engaged in producing things needed for the efficiency both of our soldiers and of our home people, need the credit to carry on their enterprises.

Merchants should not borrow money to stock up on luxuries or things that the people should not buy at this time. No one should borrow money now to spend needlessly or extravagantly. Unnecessary building, un-needed articles, unessential enterprises should all await the ending of the war.

 dale, California, until 7:30 p. m. of

 2 of the City of Glendale.

EFFICIENCY RUN WILD

There will be a general sympathy for the New York lawyer who admits that he left home because his wife insisted on running "efficiency" and "system" into the ground. She kept account of every cent spent, even for carfare and postage stamps and the maintenance of the cat. He says he was compelled to govern himself by schedule, and eat according to a table of calories, and never once in eleven years of married life had an opportunity to relax.

As much as we may admire efficiency in the abstract and during business hours, it is easy to have too much of it. A good deal of the struggle for liberty has been at bottom a fight for the right to be efficient in our own ways. Benevolent despots, whether kings or wives, only arouse our animosity by their efforts to "do us good" in their way, rather than in ours.

The superiority of the other fellow's way has nothing to do with the case; we may admit it and still prefer our own.—Portland Oregonian.

LESSON FROM THE WAR

Some of the ardent advocates of the wet cause take keen pleasure in presenting from time to time what they are pleased to call "proof" that alcohol is necessary as a medicine, as an army ration, as food.

It would seem that the American soldier without booze and the marines representing the dry American navy are making a pretty fair showing in their contests with beer-fed Germans and the wine-nourished men of France.

It must not be forgotten that it was the speed and determination, the physical steam of the American soldiers that the German prisoners said dazzled them.

It was the inexhaustible energy of the American marines as well as their skill in Indian fighting that won victory over the Germans in strong positions in the woods west of Chateau Thierry.

The performance of the American soldiers furnishes the conclusive proof which was not necessary, that alcohol rations are not necessary for soldiers. More than that, the work of those men is evidence that the athletic power of a soldier is a tremendous asset.

Even our wettest friends will not contend that booze makes good athletes.

The war is giving us a good lesson for the wets.—Sacramento Union.

FRENCH SOCIALISM

According to latest reports, the minority wing of the French Socialist party has suddenly, by actual vote, become the majority. Some time ago the controlling group made extensive concessions to the radicals by abandoning its policy of co-operation with the government for a policy of continued opposition. This about-face was the occasion of Clemenceau's famous speech with its fierce and insistent refrain of "whatever you may do, I go on with the war." Naturally, after making this change of front, the majority found itself but a poor imitation of the minority, which had always been in the opposition, and finally lost its control of the party to the minority. But, despite the new grouping, France's general war policy will probably not be seriously affected. The new Socialist platform, like the old, calls for support of government budgets, and approves vigorous prosecution of the war. It is true the demand is again made for passports to French Socialists and that long-delayed trip to Stockholm, where conversations with Scheideman, Troelstra, and other leaders of the enemy and neutral Socialism were to have been held. But these passports Clemenceau refuses to sign. And unless French Socialists are willing to force the issue by a refusal to vote for the budget or essential war measures, they can not make him alter his decision. The tiger says, in effect: "You ask me to let you go to Stockholm, and I answer that our present problem is not conversation with the enemy, but to go on with the war."

Men who have been chosen to represent the masses of the people at Washington are supposed to have sufficient intelligence, good judgment and forethought to look after the welfare of the Nation. If men are not thus qualified, they should be retired.

HAPPENINGS IN STATE

LOS ANGELES—Foster parents are more desirous of adopting girl babies than boy babies, according to Mrs. F. E. L. Bailey, state superintendent of the Children's Home Society of California. The society has a waiting list of 177 childless families who wish to adopt girl babies as compared to 50 who want boys. "The foster parents believe that when the children grow older they do not lose the personal companionship of girls so much as they do boys. Girls also are likely to relieve the mother of exciting domestic duties. Then, again, many women believe girl babies are more interesting."

SAN DIEGO—There'll be much action on the San Diego sector during the coming fall, according to general appearances. The seasonal and official death of baseball being hastened and recognized, young men's thoughts now turn lightly to thoughts of football. According to reports from athletic directors and officers of the various service teams, the prospective gridiron year will be a "hum-dinger," especially—perhaps solely—in army athletics. Warm contests that will rival the action of a front line trench are expected between the Naval Training Station, the Army Aviation camp, the Naval Aviation Station, Fort Rosecrans, La Playa Section Naval Base, Twenty-First Infantry and Camp Kearny, each of which will enter one or more teams in the coming pigskin hostilities. According to Lieutenant Conover, director of athletics at the Naval Training Station here, football will "go over the top as never before." "One reason for the enthusiasm is the success we had last year," declared the lieutenant. "It is hard to keep the boys from donning the moleskins and starting training too soon. That is one thing we must avoid, for we can't afford to go 'stale.' However, we will start a little light practice about the second week in September. With the reappearance of Brackenbury, who played a phenomenal game New Year's Day, the navy hopes to ram and sink the hopes of our contenders for pigskin honors." However, all other service teams have added men to their lists who have past records on the gridiron. Service football fields will be studded with stars recruited from high schools, colleges and athletic clubs. Many teams are trying to hide their bright lights in an effort to win games by surprising the opponents.

OAKLAND, Cal.—"I'm getting pretty old. Soon I may die and I want to die a citizen of the United States." Israel Hutton, 82, a lumber dealer of Livermore, stood proudly before Superior Judge Harris, Oakland, and made his plea for citizenship. For 60 years Hutton has been a resident of California and he is among the well-known pioneers of the bay cities. He came to this country from Nova Scotia at the age of 17. He claims relationship to Edward Everett Hale. "I'm mighty proud of the American boys. We all are. I want to be a citizen of the greatest country in the world." He is.

TOKIO—While a party of archeologists headed by Professor Ogushi of the Osaka Medical College was excavating a shell tomb of the stone age at Tsukumo in Okayama prefecture, a complete human skeleton was discovered, together with a considerable quantity of earthenware. A wrist ring of red shell was on each arm of the skeleton. Judging from the designs of the dug-out earthenware, the bones found with it are believed to be those of one of the Ainu.

OAKLAND, Cal.—The Oakland Enquirer today printed its first issue in its new quarters at San Pablo avenue and Sixteenth street. The new Enquirer building has been in preparation for months. It is a six-story building, and has been made into one of the most modern newspaper plants in the country. New furniture has been installed throughout, a new three-deck color octuple press is ready for operation, and a photo-engraving plant has been completed. The Enquirer has outgrown its old quarters, and preparations for one of the finest newspaper homes on the Pacific Coast were started as soon as the new proprietors, W. W. Chapin, John Connors and Carl Brockhagen, took charge.

OAKLAND, Cal.—Approximately twenty ships were launched in the Bay District as a fitting climax to Labor Day. The vessels aggregate more than 150,000 tons dead-weight, according to official figures.

PORTERVILLE, Cal.—Beginning Sunday, September 1, Porterville business men went on a cash basis almost without exception. Grocery stores, haberdasheries, meat markets, furniture stores and almost every business has torn up its credit slips and oiled up its cash registers. Delivery wagons will be relegated to the non-essential class. Difficulty in securing competent help, elimination of the waste of bad credits, and the reduction of the clerical force are all given as reasons for the change.

MADE FISHING EASY

(By United Press)
PARIS, Sept. 3.—It's an ill wind that blows nobody good. During a bombardment of a group of French hamlets far behind the lines, most of the German shells fell in a river. The explosions killed hundreds of fish, which the country folk eagerly harvested.

Think what the spectacle of cheerful giving means to the enemy.

"BRAVEST MAN" HANDLES GAS SHELLS LOVINGLY

By Frank J. Taylor
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 14 (By Mail.)—There are a lot of "bravest men in the army," too many to be counted. Three of them are in the gas office of the expeditionary forces. They are gas officers.

"Come on over and see some new German gas we just took out of a dud Heinie tossed over," one of them said the other day.

His office was filled with shells and bottles. He works among them all day, and never is scared. Ten minutes is about all anyone can stand in the office.

The shells are mostly German "duds," that failed to explode. The gas officer picked one up, and explained how he had to take the fuse out and find out "what Heinie put in the shell."

He admitted that the fuse might start going any time, even with a little bump of the shell. The gas officer didn't mind playing with the shell, but someone else did mind his doing it.

Then he explained an array of bottles filled with dirty looking liquid, most of it very black. It was liquid gas, taken from shells.

There was enough gas in those bottles to put a whole town to sleep. Some of the liquid was almost strong enough to eat glass. Furthermore, bottles might break.

To show his contempt for gas, the gas officer took the cork out of one bottle and dished out a whiff of gas, just a "teaser," he called it.

It was enough—the gas officer went about his work among his shells and deadly bottles the rest of the day with no visitor bothering him.

Belgian Hares, a whole crate of them, constituted the first offering to the Santa Rosa Red Cross Shop, which was organized and opened in record-breaking time by Ira D. Pyle, Chairman. Pyle got his first story in the paper Wednesday morning and by 11 o'clock he had to apply to a commissary to feed his stock. The shop realized $143.70 from sales on the opening day, but this was not all from the hares.

Carmel-by-the-Sea has a resourceful Salvage and Shop Committee in its Red Cross Chapter. It not only cleans up the city in its search for available salvage to sell, but makes the old ocean give up its dead. Abalone shells and sea lavender find ready sale among tourists and the Red Cross is beneficiary.
